Communications Institute 2017 Recommendation Form

Dear Teacher/Counselor:

The following student, _____, is applying for admission to the Communications Institute at Colorado State University. Please provide us with any information you feel will reflect this student's potential for success in our program, e.g. class attendance, team work, interest in writing or communications, and willingness to learn. The goal of the program is to expose young people to the field of Journalism and various methods of communication: investigating, writing and reporting news through computer-mediated communication, digital photography, broadcast news and video. This program meets expectations of the Colorado Department of Education State Standards for Reading, Writing, and Communication. Students accepted will gain a collegiate experience living in the Academic Village at Colorado State University with supervision provided by college mentors.
